DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: on page 3, line 6, after "turned", insert --to the--; line 19, before "top" insert --the--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 6 is objected to because of the following informalities: in line 2, there is no antecedent basis for "the recessed section of the linking member", since the recessed member is not recited until claim 3, and claim 6 depends from claim 1. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,2,11,12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jenn-Rong 5,042,277. Jenn-Rong teaches a lock body 10, a lock core 20, a linking member 26 between the lock core and the button 30, a pivoting lock hook 50, a spring biased axially displaceable button 30/40 with a notch (bevel at the end of 32) to receive a free end of the hook 50, wherein upon entry of a correct code, the button is depressable to allow the hook to move to an open position.

5. Claims 1,11,12 are further rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yang 5,765,409. Yang teaches a lock body 10, a lock core 40, a pivoting lock hook 20, a spring biased axially displaceable button 30/33 with a notch 35 to receive a free end of the hook 23, wherein upon entry of a correct code, the button is depressable to allow the hook to move to an open position.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 2-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note, especially, the devices of Chen '997, Lai '481, Su '155.
